

חַטָּא

chayt

We try to do the right thing, but everyone makes mistakes. It's like shooting an arrow at a target. We aim for the bulls-eye, but we can't always hit it perfectly every time. Sometimes we miss the mark. On Yom Kippur we say "I'm sorry" for last year's chayt. Color in the bulls-eye and practice aiming for the center. You'll know you've hit it when you feel good about your actions.
